JUROR'S STATEMENT

It was an honor to be juror for the CWS Autumn Exhibition. My first consideration is always to determine, the best I can, the artist's intention when I look at a painting for inclusion in a show. Did the artist succeed in conveying this intention? Originality and technical skills are carefully considered as well as design and presentation. I specifically look for a balance between large shape to small, dark value to light and color contrasts in temperature and intensity. Congratulations to all in the show and to those who received an award!
